1.00 Accounting policies

1.01 Basis of preparation

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting policies applicable to the entity.

1.02 Income

Income is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable and represents the amounts receivable for services provided in the normal course of business.

1.03 Financial instruments

Initial recognition

The company classifies financial instruments, or their component parts, on initial recognition as a financial asset, a financial liability or an equity instrument in accordance with the substance of the contractual arrangement. Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised on the company's balance sheet when the company becomes party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

Loans to (from) shareholders, directors, managers and employees

Loans to (from) shareholders, directors, managers and employees are recognised initially at fair value plus direct transactions costs.

The initial fair value of such loans is the cash consideration given or received. However, when there is evidence that the fair value is different to the cash consideration given or received, the initial fair value is determined using a valuation technique and by applying terms and conditions on similar or market-related loans. Any difference between the initial fair value of the loan and the cash consideration given or received is recorded in the income statement immediately.

Loans receivable that bear no interest and for which there are no determinable terms of repayment are included in non-current assets on the assumption that repayment will only occur after 12 months from the balance sheet date. Any adjustment arising from applying the effective interest rate method over a 12 month period is ignored if it is immaterial and the loan is then recorded at cost.

Trade receivables

Trade receivables are carried at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less an allowance for any uncollectible amounts. An allowance for estimated irrecoverable amounts is recognised in the income statement when there is objective evidence that the asset is impaired.

Trade payables

Trade payables are carried at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

1.06 Comparative figures

Where necessary, comparative figures have been adjusted to conform with any changes in presentation in the current year.
